

Luba Ramashka

HTML Developer

Hi, my name is Luba and I am HTML developer from Minsk. I code mobile and web applications. I use React as my main tool.

Now I am improving my skills in this direction and expanding them with new technologies. In my spare time I participate in layout marathons and improve my English.

In the future I want to continue learning Java Script and move towards Front-end development.

I would like to find a project / full-time job in creative company with interesting tasks and modern team!

I will be glad to be a part of your team.
